

MAY 2018

KAMPALA FOR JESUS 2018 UPDATE

God is making great things happen in the weeks leading up to the Kampala for Jesus 2018 Festival! With just under three weeks to go, God has provided, through many of you, much of the money needed to fund this festival. Through the hard work of those in Kampala, Uganda, He is also clearing the barriers and preparing the ground for the festival events.

Festival planning meeting with local pastors in Kampala.

Fifty-two evangelists, performers, medical personnel, and volunteers are traveling from Nigeria, the UK, and the US, to serve at the festival. ETeamGlobal's Tim Robnett is one of the main speakers while Chris Kingston is helping organize the event and lead the festival's university student outreach.

Praise God, several of the Kampala for Jesus 2018 outreach ministries are now fully funded! But your help is still needed. With just over two weeks until the festival, $8000 is needed to fully fund all festival activities and ministries.

Also, while we have reached our goal to fund a health clinic for one day during the Kampala for Jesus 2018 festival, we want do more by making the clinic available during the entire festival. To do that, we need an additional $3000.

CLASS IS BACK IN SESSION!

As one group of ETeamGlobal members prepare for their trip to Uganda for the Kampala for Jesus 2018 festival, another is making final arrangements for their trip to Nigeria for the Forth Forum of Nigerian Evangelists.

Thirty-one men and women are participating in this year's Forum, with May's trip a continuation of classes that began in February. Mike Parker will leave for Nigeria May 3.

As they prepare and while they are in Nigeria, they humbly ask for your prayers—prayer for logistics and smooth travel, and prayer for their safety as they share the news of Jesus in a region that is not always open to hearing the Gospel. More importantly, they ask for prayer that those the teams come in contact with would have open minds and hearts to hear the Truth.

If you would like more information about how you can support the mission of ETeamGlobal, please contact Frank Kane at frank@eteamglobal.org. If you would like to give, please make your check out to ETeamGlobal and mail to the address below. PLEASE use the Prayer Calendar on the reverse side to hold up both Kampala for Jesus 2018, and the Nigerian Forum.
